AFTER THEIR OUTING SOCIETY'S DEVOTES READY FOR THE WINTER'S CAMPAIGN

of the Debutanta.

The days of summer idleness are past and the spirit of work returns to the soul morrow.

Thi makes a total of seven yellow-fever deaths that should be counted to-day. Three others are hourly expected to die-William C. Weed, Earnest George, and Adolph Lavine. There is no possible hope Adolph Lavine. There is no possible hope for them.

Two other deaths occurred to-day—those of Essie Ryckman, a negro child, and Mrs. Schranton, neither, however, from yellow-fever.

The warm weather, following the few days' rainy and cool spell, has brought the disease rapidly to the front. There are now 258 under treatment—sixty whites and 198 colored. The outlook is not cheering for twenty-five days yet. When the dread of famine seems to be disappearing and the people are breathing easier, the deaths roll up and the fever increases alarmingly. the first frost in the air, the morning freshness, that puts elasticity and vitality a gospel of pleasure rather than a law of rigid exactions.

And yet, as the fortunate stand upon the threshold of winter, strong in the courage which comes from rested bodies, refreshed minds and that sense of security which has heretofore filled each returning season with success and plenty, there comes from many less fortunate hearthstones a wall of human want and woe. In each city and town chose who have humanitarian hearts have work enough to do.

Loyal women organize themselves to help the suffering. Alas! for those who forget their obligations to their race and refuse even the word of encouragement or the sympathetic smile to those who struggle or who suffer the despair of dile, yet willing hands, unable to procure honest labor. Let us think as we stand in the rich autumn glory of summer nopes fulfilled, with minds and bodies refreshed, how we may take to nert the message of love to humanity and do the sweet service of immortal charity.

WOMAN'S POWER FOR GOOD. At 9:30 to-night William C. Weed died. He was a victim of imprident nursing. His nurse, through feeling for the man, begging for food as all yellow-fever patients do, gave him, against the physician's orders, some nourishing food. He might have been saved had this not been done.

WOMAN'S POWER FOR GOOD.

Mrs. Wesley Smith delivered a lecture at Chicago entitled "Symmetrical Woman-hood." She cautions against the tendene-even in good things, toward some ringle absorbing fail, and urges an all-round experience and development of woman's wonderful power for good. She recommends that we borrow the motto which the Greeks put upon the arch of their academies "Do nothing too much," from which we learn that we should look to the right and to the left and on every side of us for opportunities to make the WOMAN'S POWER FOR GOOD. of southern and eastern rairoad assteamship companies to form an association independent of the Southern Railway and Steamship Association, which was organized several years ago. It is understood that the Merchants' and Miners' Transportation Company, the Norfolk and Western Railroad Company, and other southern corporations will combine at an early date. These companies have not signed the agreement of which we learn that we shall on every side of us for opportunities to make the world about us better for our progence; for whilst to all of us it is not given to climb the mountain, and few of us may wear the laurel, who shall say what constitutes success; who deny that she has achieved her highest mission who has been simply a good woman? Noisy deeds are not essential, but a pure desire to heal the sick, feed the hungry, clothe the naked and bind up the broken heart, to these is the promise given of "the joy of their Lord." combine at an early date. These companies have not signed the agreement of the propert association for this year, which is usually done in July.

An officer of one of the companies states that discrimination is being made in favor of the western roads, and that as a consequence freight from Pittsburg and other points is carried by western roads to the Mississippi river and floated down to New Orleans and other export shipping cities.

LESS ENTERTAINING. LESS ENTERTAINING.

It is prophesied there will be less entertaining in Richmond during the coming season than has been for several past.

The germans will be later beginning and the wedding receptions are small.

The matrimonial fever is raging, and will reach its height about the 15th of November, and but for the long list of debutantes, we might almost fear that there would be none left to fill the gaps made by the number of popular belies who are being borne away from their homes and friends.

made by the Indineer of the way from their homes and friends.

Among those who will be launched into society this season are Misses Kate Harris, Carrie Talbott, Mary McCaw, Stanley Atkins, Marian Meade, Roy Ellerson, Hermine Moore, Mary Carrington, Emily Cary, Mary Hayes, Adele Archer, Fronle Pegram, Judith Deane, Rachel Cooke, and Mamie Saunders.

A delightfuily novel surprise party was given to a young couple in the West Enden Tuesday evening, on the occasion of their fifth anniversary. The entertainment was planned and cleverly executed by the mother of the bride, who managed to have a delightful supper prepared, and three families of relatives assembled, each carrying a present in wood, cost limited to ten cents. The party, representing three generations, completely surprised to ten cents. The party, representing three generations, completely surprised the young people, and after greetings and congratulations, each presented his or ler gift, whilst one of the "promoters" (By telegraph to the Dispatch.)

MEMPHIS, TENN., October 21.—The
Litchfield Car Works, of Litchfield, Ill.,

The presents included every article imaginable in the housekeeping line, from a sifter to a mouse-trap, so the yerses were delightfully original and appropriate APPROPRIATE LINES. Accompanying a long-handled dust brush were the lines:

This broom is meant, as in nursery rhyme. To sweep the cobwebs from your sky; f any have grown in the five years' time May they all be gone in the by and by. A pair of little spoons "The strength of all the family Has been gath'ring many mood And all of them have mustered

To send you mustard spoons.' A sifter had the lines: 'Le temps s'en vas,' time goes I know, I hope it won't go swifter;

if you have lumps in your brea Don't fail to use this sifter."

A beautiful wedding cake, bearing the dates 1888-1893, and true-lovers' knots ordates 1888-1835, and the lovels Radots of nameating it, a merry family supper, and a Virginia reel, in which grandparents and children joined in "cutting the pigeon wing," completed an entertainment charming and lovely in every respect and

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., October 21.—An aplication for a supersedeas was made to the Indiana Supreme Court this morning by the Columbian Athletic Club, of Roby. The application says the restraining order against the club undertakes to prohibit it from the commission of criminal acts, and does not assume to protect any legal, equitable, or civil right. A receiver was appointed, it is asserted, for the sole purpose of taking the club property to prevent the commission of crime. There are no creditors of the club, and no stock-holders nor anyone interested in its affairs who compains of its management. The receiver was appointed without notice and the court is asked to restore the property.

The supersedeas was granted by the court, and the property will be taken from the receiver's hands. WANTED, TRAVELING SALES-
